weBoost Brings Professional-Grade Cellular Connectivity to Chrysler, Dodge, Jeep®, and Ram Owners Through Mopar Affiliated Accessories Program

Salt Lake City, December 3, 2025 - weBoost, the leader in cell signal booster technology, proudly announces its acceptance into the Mopar Affiliated Accessories Program, bringing professional-grade connectivity solutions directly to Chrysler, Dodge, Jeep®, and Ram dealerships across the United States. This strategic partnership enables vehicle owners the opportunity to enhance their cellular connectivity with weBoost's signal boosters, ensuring reliable communication on every adventure, job site, and daily commute.

Through the Mopar Affiliated Accessories Program, weBoost products are now available for purchase through the Mopar eStore and at participating dealerships nationwide. Customers can order weBoost signal boosters online or through their local dealer, with products delivered to the dealership for professional installation or customer pickup. All weBoost products in the program have been expertly reviewed by Mopar for proper fitment and are backed by weBoost's warranty and guarantee. for proper fitment and are backed by weBoost's warranty and guarantee.

"We're thrilled to partner with Mopar to bring our cellular connectivity solutions to the Stellantis family of vehicles," said Jonathan Field, weBoost General Manager. "This partnership ensures that Chrysler, Dodge, Jeep, and Ram owners have seamless and reliable access to the connectivity technology they need, exactly when and where they need it."

The Mopar Affiliated Accessories Program launched in July 2025, offering more than 1,000 popular accessories from over 50 well-known and preferred aftermarket supplier partners. The program provides customers with a wider choice of trusted aftermarket options to personalize or enhance the performance of their vehicles, all backed by Mopar's commitment to quality and proper fitment.
