

Reception

BOND™ Implementation: These questions can help to gather brief progress updates, compliance information and any concerns the client might have.

- What changes have you noticed in your pet's behavior since your last visit?
- Have you had any issues administering medications?
- Have you had issues adhering to the BOND training program?
- Are you in need of any refills of medications?
- Are there any concerns with the treatment plan that you would like the medical team to address today?

Technician

BOND™ Implementation: These questions can help to bridge the gap between the veterinarian's plan and the client's real-life experience implementing the plan.

- Is your pet still showing signs of anxiety when you're away?
- What behaviors are you seeing now compared to before?
- Are there any new behaviors you've noticed?
- Would you describe the behaviors as less intense, the same, or worse?
- Are you able to administer medications as prescribed?
- Have you noticed any side effects?
- Have you missed any doses or had any challenges with administration?
- Have you been able to incorporate the training program? Going well? Challenges?
- Have there been any setbacks?
- Is there anything specific you're worried about now?
- How are you feeling about your pet's progress thus far?

Veterinarian

BOND™ Implementation: These questions are collaborative and progress-focused while still digging deeper into response to treatment, compliance, and any remaining gaps in therapy.

- Since our last visit, how are things going overall?
- What changes – positive or negative – have you noticed in your dog's behavior when left alone?
- Would you say the behaviors are improved, worse, or the same?
- What specific changes have been most notable?
- How long can your dog be left alone for now before showing signs of distress?
- Tell me how training exercises have been going.
- Which parts of our plan feel manageable, and which have been more difficult to implement?
- Are you able to give medications as prescribed?
- Have you noticed any side effects that we need to discuss?
- Has your dog's routine changed since beginning treatment?
- How are you feeling about progress so far?
- How can we further support you to make treatment a success for your household?

Reception

BOND™ Implementation: These questions can help to gather brief progress updates, compliance information and any concerns the client might have.

- What changes have you noticed in your pet's behavior since your last visit?
- Have you had any issues administering medications?
- Have you had issues adhering to the BOND training program?
- Are you in need of any refills of medications?
- Are there any concerns with the treatment plan that you would like the medical team to address today?

Technician

BOND™ Implementation: These questions can help to bridge the gap between the veterinarian's plan and the client's real-life experience implementing the plan.

- Is your pet still showing signs of anxiety when you're away?
- What behaviors are you seeing now compared to before?
- Are there any new behaviors you've noticed?
- Would you describe the behaviors as less intense, the same, or worse?
- Are you able to administer medications as prescribed?
- Have you noticed any side effects?
- Have you missed any doses or had any challenges with administration?
- Have you been able to incorporate the training program? Going well? Challenges?
- Have there been any setbacks?
- Is there anything specific you're worried about now?
- How are you feeling about your pet's progress thus far?

Veterinarian

BOND Implementation: These questions are collaborative and progress-focused while still digging deeper into response to treatment, compliance, and any remaining gaps in therapy.

- Since our last visit, how are things going overall?
- What changes – positive or negative – have you noticed in your dog's behavior when left alone?
- Would you say the behaviors are improved, worse, or the same?
- What specific changes have been most notable?
- How long can your dog be left alone for now before showing signs of distress?
- Tell me how training exercises have been going.
- Which parts of our plan feel manageable, and which have been more difficult to implement?
- Are you able to give medications as prescribed?
- Have you noticed any side effects that we need to discuss?
- Has your dog's routine changed since beginning treatment?
- How are you feeling about progress so far?
- How can we further support you to make treatment a success for your household?